To Whom It May Concern:

Re: American Debt Counseling

American Debt Counseling and The Salvation Army have been partnering to provide Financial Management and Financial Literacy to our neighbors and homeless families and individuals living and receiving services from our agency.

We find the staff of American Debt Counseling and, particularly Ms. Courtney Cordero, to be professional, flexible to accommodate to the needs, and helpful to our clients.

Classes are provided weekly at both our transitional housing programs in Ft. Lauderdale and Hollywood. The feedback we receive from those who attend the weekly classes has been positive. The beneficiaries from this partnership are individuals and families living in our transitional housing programs and people seeking financial assistance with rent/mortgage.

We appreciate the partnership we have and the opportunity for both our agencies to provide such needed services to those who need the most.

If you would like to know more about The Salvation Army and the services we provide, please do not hesitate to contact us.

Sincerely,

Lilly Gallardo, LCSW

Director of Social Services
