

COMPUTER DONATION AIDS KIDS IN DISTRESS

From One Non-Profit to Another, American Debt Counseling Partners with KIDS

SUNRISE, Fla. (July 19, 2010) – The non-profit American Debt Counseling recently donated 20 complete computer set-ups to Kids in Distress as part of its ongoing commitment to assist its non-profit partner. The donation included printers and accessories, all of which will be used by KID staff, volunteers and foster families as needed.

“The American Debt Counseling staff and executive team is happy to be able to assist our non-profit partner in meaningful ways,” said Alan Silverberg, founder and CEO of American Debt Counseling. “Our relationship with Kids in Distress is a positive example of how non-profits can work together to meet needs without tapping critical resources that can be devoted instead to providing much-needed services to the community.”

Since the start of 2010, American Debt Counseling has partnered with Kids In Distress, a not-for-profit organization providing assistance to more than 7,000 children and families in Broward and Palm Beach counties. At Family Nights and other KID events, ADC employees provide age-appropriate activities that teach children about saving and spending money wisely; educational seminars for the organization’s prevention staff; and ongoing money management presentations to foster parents.

Kids in Distress Executive Vice President Ellyn Okrent said, “With a specialized educational curriculum and in-kind contributions from American Debt Counseling, Kids in Distress is able to provide a valuable service to our clients and staff. We are appreciative of the support we continue to receive from ADC and look forward to a lasting affiliation.”
